Testing your Internet Speed

There are a number of free apps that can be downloaded to your smartphone to test wifi speeds, such as 'Speed Test'. Set your phone to the home wifi connection that Mylo will be using and run the Speed Test app on your phone to get an upload and download number. This tells you the internet speed that Mylo will be able to access.

Bandwidth

For Mylo to work best he needs to have as much of that internet speed available to him. If multiple other devices, such as TV streaming services, mobile phones, music players, etc. are using the same internet connection this reduces the bandwidth available for Mylo to use, and may effect the connection and quality of Remote Monitoring and Video Calling.

Sections in yellow depict that although these functions will still be available, there may be delays, sudden app closures or video / audio quality may be poor at times.
